

FIGHT FOR WOMEN GROWS IN JAPAN

Sharp Comment Is Made on Attitude of Diet Toward Enfranchisement.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
Tokyo, Feb. 28.—Commenting on the movement to give women the right to attend political meetings, the Yorodai says it has been frequently asked how long the Japanese are going to treat half heartedly those questions having for their object the elevation of the social and political position of women. There are some who argue that the enfranchisement of women in Japan is premature, considering that even manhood suffrage has not yet become an accomplished fact.

The newspaper continues: "There are a large number of women in this country who as the heads of business houses employ many men and women and pay a large share of the taxes, but suffrage is withheld from them simply because they are women. This is especially unfair in a country like Japan, where the qualifications of voters are determined by the amount of taxes paid."

"That all the bills regarding women were without sufficient treatment in the Diet must be due to the fact that in the majority of cases men are inclined to maltreat women, and judging from the prevailing state of affairs, the emancipation of women in Japan seems to be a long way off."

"But it should be observed that the enfranchisement of women will elevate the moral position of men and will result in great benefit to the country. The Japanese should understand that the real progress of civilization can only be possible by the uplifting of the position of women. The time is long past when women can be regarded as little better than slaves."

PARK UNION FOREIGN BANKING CORPORATION

56 Wall Street, New York

Shanghai Yokohama
San Francisco Seattle
Tokyo

The State Bank of the Portuguese Colonies

BANCO NACIONAL
ULTRAMARINO

New York Agency, 93 Liberty St.

More Than 30 YEARS
in Export Banking

INTIMATE KNOWLEDGE of the needs and habits of the people, acquired by years of experience and actual residence in the countries themselves, is essential when transacting business abroad.

23 Branches in South America
One Branch in Mexico
9 Offices in Europe

ANGLO-SOUTH AMERICAN
BANK LIMITED

New York Agency, 49 Broadway

South Africa's Hardware Market

CONSIDERING
South Africa as a market for American hardware, the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the United States Department of Commerce says:

"Since 1914 the United States has made substantial progress in supplying hardware to this territory, and the Bureau's investigators are of the opinion that, with proper care and attention to special requirements, much of the present trade can be retained and new and profitable lines developed."

One of the greatest single factors in building commerce with South Africa is the National Bank of South Africa, because of its 500 or more branch offices distributed among the important commercial centers of the territory, because of its intimate knowledge of methods and conditions, and because of its ample resources and facilities for handling business of this kind.

NATIONAL BANK OF SOUTH AFRICA
LIMITED

New York Office, 44 Beaver St.

R. E. Saunders, Agent

Total Resources Exceed $430,000,000

BOMBAY LONDON ANTWERP

AUSTRALIA ESTABLISHES INDUSTRIAL BUREAU

Plan Is to Give Scientific Aid to Producers.

MELBOURNE, March 27.—The Australian Government, to assist industry, has established a scientific bureau which will endeavor to develop the resources both of the produce and manufactures of the country by the use of scientific methods, such as are utilized in connection with the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

For the first director of the new Institute of science and industry the Government has appointed a statistician of world repute, George H. Knibbs, Australian Commonwealth statistic and publisher of the "Australian Year Book."

AUSTRALIA PLANS DISPOSAL OF WOOL

Collapse of Market Brings All
Branches of the Industry Together.

MELBOURNE, March 27.—An important conference has just been held at Melbourne between representatives of all branches of the Australian wool industry. Sir John Higgins, chairman of the British Australian Wool Realization Association, Ltd., presided and submitted a scheme to meet the serious position of the industry and the possible effect throughout the Commonwealth of the collapse of the wool market. The conference unanimously agreed to the following resolutions:

"That allocation of quantities of wool for auction in England and Australia be arranged by the British and Australian boards of the realization association, subject to the provision that the quantity allocated for Australian auctions must not be less than the British offerings. It is understood that the Australian board will advise the committee of the National Wool Brokers' Council of all market movements and developments."

"That minimum reserves be placed on the realization of association wool (which are old wools taken over from the British Government) and current clip of wool, on parity limits, to be agreed upon by the realization association and the National Council of Wool Selling Brokers of Australia. Should these bodies fail to agree as to the minimum reserves, the chairman of the realization association to be chairman of the appeal board, with a casting vote."

"That the scheme be operative until September 30, 1922, when the matter will again be reviewed."

"That the realization association accept responsibility for realizing the $5,000,000 worth of priority wool classification certificates on or before July 31, 1921."

COREANS INVADE TOKIO.

Religious Cult Moved by Spirit of Nationalism.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
Tokyo, Feb. 28.—Tendo-ko, a Korean religious sect which is said to closely resemble Christianity in doctrine and phraseology, is to establish a branch church in Tokyo. The action is taken at the instigation of twelve Korean students at the Imperial University.

Tendo-ko is the religion of Sun Kalki, a leader of Korean malcontents, who is said to be determined not to abandon the cause of independence for his country. The metropolitan police bureau here will interfere with the Tokyo followers provided they do not disturb peace and order, according to the Yomiuri.

JAPANESE RADICALS SEIZED.

Said to Have Planned Inflammatory Despatch to Premier.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
Tokyo, Feb. 28.—According to the Nichinichi, some of the elementary school teachers in Nagano prefecture who attempted to address an inflammatory despatch to the Premier, have been taken into custody for examination by the judicial authorities.

It is charged that the teachers have tried to distribute subversive literature in printed form among their students and the members of the local Young Men's Association.

JAPAN GETS GERMAN SHIP.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
Tokyo, Jan. 2.—The German steamer Cap Finisterre, 29,000 tons, awarded to Japan after the war, reached Yokohama yesterday. The vessel will be given to the Japanese government, which will place it on the Japan-Europe route.

LOTTERY REVIVED SOLD HERE DESPITE LAW

Continued from First Page.

In a month, it is known to do business in the United States on a much smaller basis, perhaps owing to old established competition.

Sold by Seamen.
An investigation by THE NEW YORK HERALD shows that among other ways and means of distribution of lottery tickets in a foreign country into the United States is by the use of seamen and even sometimes officers of all sorts of ocean-going craft touching at South American ports are said to be smuggling thousands of tickets of lottery to ports here, where they are turned over to "authorized" agents who have a large circle of friendly and "safe" customers at fixed prices.

In many instances the tickets pass through three or four hands before reaching the final purchaser, who, through the same source, receives information as to the winning number, whether he is a host or a winning number through the medium of the Official Bulletin, which is distributed to those who can be trusted.

From reliable information it is learned that for every dollar invested in a lottery ticket of the New Louisiana 50 cents is paid the agents and the remaining 50 cents in many instances is either sent by trusted messengers or pressed to a Southern city for final disposal.

On the back of each ticket is the following significant paragraph:

"All prizes will be promptly paid by authorized agents in all the principal cities and towns. The Bulletin of drawings will be distributed FREE throughout the world."

Newark a Centre.
One of the big distributing centres in the East of such tickets is in Newark, N. J., where a large number of agents sell to industrial plant employees mostly situated in and about Greater New York, where a thriving business is carried on, according to reliable sources of information.

It is reported that this cache is always well supplied with tickets and monthly issues of the Official Bulletin for sale at a price of $1.00 per ticket. Newark, which is at present the big market, is Newark place draws heavily from Philadelphia, at which port steamers from South American ports are regularly scheduled.

It is not safely stated that in almost any port along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts tickets from lotteries operating in several foreign countries can be found. Newark is a center of distribution for tickets from land agents or members of the crews of sea and coastwise going craft.

Many stories are told of how natives of the United States have been informed of big winning numbers in the Louisiana Lottery and either paid in cash or given free passage to Honduras where the prize is paid after proper identification.

One story has it that a motorist working in Jersey City purchased a dollar ticket from a friendly sailor for the New Louisiana Lottery. The sailor, an agent for a lottery company, appeared at the motorist's home about a week ago and informed the purchaser that he had won a $10,000 prize. Friends of the motorist, who were in the city, were taking a sea trip to South America, where they may arrive in Puerto Cortez in time to witness another drawing.

According to the Official Bulletin, John B. Wallace is president and W. J. Carroll, secretary of the New Louisiana Lottery. So far as can be learned, neither of these gentlemen has any connection with the Louisiana Lottery in New Orleans.

During the last twelve months the lottery headed by Mr. Wallace has paid out $245,000 in prizes for tickets sold throughout the world. Since such enterprises are always operated on a sure thing basis, it can be readily surmised that the lottery must turn over $1,000,000 a year.

In last month's issue of the Official Bulletin, under the caption of "Letters to Our Readers," Mr. Wallace says: "We would request you not to make sales of tickets to persons who are not in a position to buy them. A man who must deprive himself or others of necessities of life to obtain tickets is not a person to be trusted. The complaints made by those who have suffered by reason of another's gambling have been taken into consideration by our committee and we will not tolerate such enterprises as ours to be stopped."

Under the same subject Secretary Carroll of the New Louisiana writes: "We would caution agents to insist on getting the complete ticket as a condition of sale. By a complete ticket we would say that the two complete numbers with the date would be sufficient to win the prize. In the past month an agent received about half a winning ticket from the man who bought it from him. This agent claimed the prize and was paid, and he had lost the rest of it. The agent very wisely stated that he would look the matter up before paying the winner."

It is later developed that the other portion of the winning ticket had been presented to another agent. As this part of the ticket contained the date as well as the numbers, it was not valid. The agent who had the ticket should collect for it. The original prize would be paid to the agent who presented the complete ticket.

For Home Loan Banks.
A home loan bank bill to provide for district home loan banks, which may sell, under Federal supervision, bonds secured by the aggregate of loans deposited by the member banks.

An amendment to the revenue act to provide for exempting from taxes the profits on the sale of dwelling houses where such profits, plus an equal amount, are reinvested in dwelling house construction.

An amendment to the revenue act to exempt from taxation interest on loans up to $40,000 on improved real estate used for dwelling purposes.

An amendment to the revenue act limiting the taxation of profits from the sale of capital assets by providing for their taxation as of the year of their sale.

An amendment to the revenue act to limit the surtax upon saved income to an amount not in excess of 20 per cent of such income.

An amendment to the postal savings law increasing the limitation on deposits as to amount and time.

NEW MAP OF EUROPE ISSUED.

Shows Boundaries Established by
Peace Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The new map of Europe, showing the boundaries of new and old nations established by the Peace Conference at Paris and by subsequent decisions of the Supreme Council, has just been published by the National Geographic Society, together with an index of the names of the cities and towns.

It shows the plebeian areas, such as Silesia, eastern Galicia, Schleswig, Myrnesia and Rhodes. The former date area in Syria is outlined and also the international territory called the one of Straits (Dardanelles and Bosporus), now governed by the International Commission of Control.

Other frontiers show the Saar basin, the Dodecanese Islands, now under Greek domination; the Polish corridor to the Baltic Sea; and the new nations born as the result of the war, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

LOTTERY REVIVED SOLD HERE DESPITE LAW

Continued from First Page.

In a month, it is known to do business in the United States on a much smaller basis, perhaps owing to old established competition.

Sold by Seamen.
An investigation by THE NEW YORK HERALD shows that among other ways and means of distribution of lottery tickets in a foreign country into the United States is by the use of seamen and even sometimes officers of all sorts of ocean-going craft touching at South American ports are said to be smuggling thousands of tickets of lottery to ports here, where they are turned over to "authorized" agents who have a large circle of friendly and "safe" customers at fixed prices.

In many instances the tickets pass through three or four hands before reaching the final purchaser, who, through the same source, receives information as to the winning number, whether he is a host or a winning number through the medium of the Official Bulletin, which is distributed to those who can be trusted.

From reliable information it is learned that for every dollar invested in a lottery ticket of the New Louisiana 50 cents is paid the agents and the remaining 50 cents in many instances is either sent by trusted messengers or pressed to a Southern city for final disposal.

On the back of each ticket is the following significant paragraph:

"All prizes will be promptly paid by authorized agents in all the principal cities and towns. The Bulletin of drawings will be distributed FREE throughout the world."

Newark a Centre.
One of the big distributing centres in the East of such tickets is in Newark, N. J., where a large number of agents sell to industrial plant employees mostly situated in and about Greater New York, where a thriving business is carried on, according to reliable sources of information.

It is reported that this cache is always well supplied with tickets and monthly issues of the Official Bulletin for sale at a price of $1.00 per ticket. Newark, which is at present the big market, is Newark place draws heavily from Philadelphia, at which port steamers from South American ports are regularly scheduled.

It is not safely stated that in almost any port along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts tickets from lotteries operating in several foreign countries can be found. Newark is a center of distribution for tickets from land agents or members of the crews of sea and coastwise going craft.

Many stories are told of how natives of the United States have been informed of big winning numbers in the Louisiana Lottery and either paid in cash or given free passage to Honduras where the prize is paid after proper identification.

One story has it that a motorist working in Jersey City purchased a dollar ticket from a friendly sailor for the New Louisiana Lottery. The sailor, an agent for a lottery company, appeared at the motorist's home about a week ago and informed the purchaser that he had won a $10,000 prize. Friends of the motorist, who were in the city, were taking a sea trip to South America, where they may arrive in Puerto Cortez in time to witness another drawing.

According to the Official Bulletin, John B. Wallace is president and W. J. Carroll, secretary of the New Louisiana Lottery. So far as can be learned, neither of these gentlemen has any connection with the Louisiana Lottery in New Orleans.

During the last twelve months the lottery headed by Mr. Wallace has paid out $245,000 in prizes for tickets sold throughout the world. Since such enterprises are always operated on a sure thing basis, it can be readily surmised that the lottery must turn over $1,000,000 a year.

In last month's issue of the Official Bulletin, under the caption of "Letters to Our Readers," Mr. Wallace says: "We would request you not to make sales of tickets to persons who are not in a position to buy them. A man who must deprive himself or others of necessities of life to obtain tickets is not a person to be trusted. The complaints made by those who have suffered by reason of another's gambling have been taken into consideration by our committee and we will not tolerate such enterprises as ours to be stopped."

Under the same subject Secretary Carroll of the New Louisiana writes: "We would caution agents to insist on getting the complete ticket as a condition of sale. By a complete ticket we would say that the two complete numbers with the date would be sufficient to win the prize. In the past month an agent received about half a winning ticket from the man who bought it from him. This agent claimed the prize and was paid, and he had lost the rest of it. The agent very wisely stated that he would look the matter up before paying the winner."

It is later developed that the other portion of the winning ticket had been presented to another agent. As this part of the ticket contained the date as well as the numbers, it was not valid. The agent who had the ticket should collect for it. The original prize would be paid to the agent who presented the complete ticket.

For Home Loan Banks.
A home loan bank bill to provide for district home loan banks, which may sell, under Federal supervision, bonds secured by the aggregate of loans deposited by the member banks.

An amendment to the revenue act to provide for exempting from taxes the profits on the sale of dwelling houses where such profits, plus an equal amount, are reinvested in dwelling house construction.

An amendment to the revenue act to exempt from taxation interest on loans up to $40,000 on improved real estate used for dwelling purposes.

An amendment to the revenue act limiting the taxation of profits from the sale of capital assets by providing for their taxation as of the year of their sale.

An amendment to the revenue act to limit the surtax upon saved income to an amount not in excess of 20 per cent of such income.

An amendment to the postal savings law increasing the limitation on deposits as to amount and time.

NEW MAP OF EUROPE ISSUED.

Shows Boundaries Established by
Peace Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The new map of Europe, showing the boundaries of new and old nations established by the Peace Conference at Paris and by subsequent decisions of the Supreme Council, has just been published by the National Geographic Society, together with an index of the names of the cities and towns.

It shows the plebeian areas, such as Silesia, eastern Galicia, Schleswig, Myrnesia and Rhodes. The former date area in Syria is outlined and also the international territory called the one of Straits (Dardanelles and Bosporus), now governed by the International Commission of Control.

Other frontiers show the Saar basin, the Dodecanese Islands, now under Greek domination; the Polish corridor to the Baltic Sea; and the new nations born as the result of the war, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

LOTTERY REVIVED SOLD HERE DESPITE LAW

Continued from First Page.

In a month, it is known to do business in the United States on a much smaller basis, perhaps owing to old established competition.

Sold by Seamen.
An investigation by THE NEW YORK HERALD shows that among other ways and means of distribution of lottery tickets in a foreign country into the United States is by the use of seamen and even sometimes officers of all sorts of ocean-going craft touching at South American ports are said to be smuggling thousands of tickets of lottery to ports here, where they are turned over to "authorized" agents who have a large circle of friendly and "safe" customers at fixed prices.

In many instances the tickets pass through three or four hands before reaching the final purchaser, who, through the same source, receives information as to the winning number, whether he is a host or a winning number through the medium of the Official Bulletin, which is distributed to those who can be trusted.

From reliable information it is learned that for every dollar invested in a lottery ticket of the New Louisiana 50 cents is paid the agents and the remaining 50 cents in many instances is either sent by trusted messengers or pressed to a Southern city for final disposal.

On the back of each ticket is the following significant paragraph:

"All prizes will be promptly paid by authorized agents in all the principal cities and towns. The Bulletin of drawings will be distributed FREE throughout the world."

Newark a Centre.
One of the big distributing centres in the East of such tickets is in Newark, N. J., where a large number of agents sell to industrial plant employees mostly situated in and about Greater New York, where a thriving business is carried on, according to reliable sources of information.

It is reported that this cache is always well supplied with tickets and monthly issues of the Official Bulletin for sale at a price of $1.00 per ticket. Newark, which is at present the big market, is Newark place draws heavily from Philadelphia, at which port steamers from South American ports are regularly scheduled.

It is not safely stated that in almost any port along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts tickets from lotteries operating in several foreign countries can be found. Newark is a center of distribution for tickets from land agents or members of the crews of sea and coastwise going craft.

Many stories are told of how natives of the United States have been informed of big winning numbers in the Louisiana Lottery and either paid in cash or given free passage to Honduras where the prize is paid after proper identification.

One story has it that a motorist working in Jersey City purchased a dollar ticket from a friendly sailor for the New Louisiana Lottery. The sailor, an agent for a lottery company, appeared at the motorist's home about a week ago and informed the purchaser that he had won a $10,000 prize. Friends of the motorist, who were in the city, were taking a sea trip to South America, where they may arrive in Puerto Cortez in time to witness another drawing.

According to the Official Bulletin, John B. Wallace is president and W. J. Carroll, secretary of the New Louisiana Lottery. So far as can be learned, neither of these gentlemen has any connection with the Louisiana Lottery in New Orleans.

During the last twelve months the lottery headed by Mr. Wallace has paid out $245,000 in prizes for tickets sold throughout the world. Since such enterprises are always operated on a sure thing basis, it can be readily surmised that the lottery must turn over $1,000,000 a year.

In last month's issue of the Official Bulletin, under the caption of "Letters to Our Readers," Mr. Wallace says: "We would request you not to make sales of tickets to persons who are not in a position to buy them. A man who must deprive himself or others of necessities of life to obtain tickets is not a person to be trusted. The complaints made by those who have suffered by reason of another's gambling have been taken into consideration by our committee and we will not tolerate such enterprises as ours to be stopped."

Under the same subject Secretary Carroll of the New Louisiana writes: "We would caution agents to insist on getting the complete ticket as a condition of sale. By a complete ticket we would say that the two complete numbers with the date would be sufficient to win the prize. In the past month an agent received about half a winning ticket from the man who bought it from him. This agent claimed the prize and was paid, and he had lost the rest of it. The agent very wisely stated that he would look the matter up before paying the winner."

It is later developed that the other portion of the winning ticket had been presented to another agent. As this part of the ticket contained the date as well as the numbers, it was not valid. The agent who had the ticket should collect for it. The original prize would be paid to the agent who presented the complete ticket.

For Home Loan Banks.
A home loan bank bill to provide for district home loan banks, which may sell, under Federal supervision, bonds secured by the aggregate of loans deposited by the member banks.

An amendment to the revenue act to provide for exempting from taxes the profits on the sale of dwelling houses where such profits, plus an equal amount, are reinvested in dwelling house construction.

An amendment to the revenue act to exempt from taxation interest on loans up to $40,000 on improved real estate used for dwelling purposes.

An amendment to the revenue act limiting the taxation of profits from the sale of capital assets by providing for their taxation as of the year of their sale.

An amendment to the revenue act to limit the surtax upon saved income to an amount not in excess of 20 per cent of such income.

An amendment to the postal savings law increasing the limitation on deposits as to amount and time.

NEW MAP OF EUROPE ISSUED.

Shows Boundaries Established by
Peace Conference.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The new map of Europe, showing the boundaries of new and old nations established by the Peace Conference at Paris and by subsequent decisions of the Supreme Council, has just been published by the National Geographic Society, together with an index of the names of the cities and towns.

It shows the plebeian areas, such as Silesia, eastern Galicia, Schleswig, Myrnesia and Rhodes. The former date area in Syria is outlined and also the international territory called the one of Straits (Dardanelles and Bosporus), now governed by the International Commission of Control.

Other frontiers show the Saar basin, the Dodecanese Islands, now under Greek domination; the Polish corridor to the Baltic Sea; and the new nations born as the result of the war, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

600 LOVE LETTERS ARE BROUGHT INTO COURT Inventor Being Sued for $50,000 in Heart Case.

Los Angeles, March 27.—"I've gotten when I am away," declares Thomas J. Stephens, engineer, chemist and inventor. In one of the 600 love letters he is said to have written Mrs. Emma M. Snyder, landowner young divorcee of Avalon, who is suing Mr. Stephens for breach of promise in Pittsburgh, claiming $50,000 damages.

Mr. Stephens, who is married and the father of three children, boarded with Mrs. Snyder when he became estranged from his wife, Mrs. Bessie H. Stephens.

"Keeping your tickets carefully so they will be complete is the safest plan to insure immediate payment of prize, as a place ticket is reasonably subject to careful examination before payment can be made."

"It has come to our attention that many of last month's prizes were paid after the buyers had thrown out of work by the industrial depression prevalent in some quarters, and thus resulting in much benefit to the lucky ones, when the prizes were paid to those who had good prospects and no thought of how beneficial the good luck would really be to them. Hope the results will reach those most needing them."

This City Lucrative Field.

Information given by THE NEW YORK HERALD by a man in this city who claimed to be a "sub-agent" of the Honduras "Klondike," said that in Harlem there is a most lucrative field for the sale of lottery tickets.

"In fact, I do my biggest business with the colored race, and the same is true of other agents in New York city. Playing the lottery up Harlem and the lower East side is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for labor is increasing, men employed in such plants or not actually out of work will naturally be good lottery ticket buyers. All business is a big thing, and the Federal agents are not taking domino pastime. The Official Bulletin of the New Louisiana Lottery, with very few exceptions, is in the hands of the colored race, and the same is true of the Federal agents, although three times the number were able to find seats or standing room in the huge edifice. Similar conditions existed in other large churches in the city, where the agents of the Episcopal Diocese of New York preached his last Easter sermon as pastor of Trinity church to a congregation which filled the historic structure long before the morning service opened."

Mr. Manning's message rang with a note of confidence. "I have seen many agents doing business in industrial plants in and about New York," he was asked. "I cannot say for sure," he answered, "with a broad smile," he heard, "I live for evermore in the New Jersey does a land office business in factories in New York city and environs. Of course, with industrial development, the demand for